Classes

Students Create Useful 'Objets D'Art'

Tom Lambert puts painstaking effort into his model for the Christmas display.

Projects from the art classes often fill the showcases with objects to attract the attention of every Hillite and visitor. Although art students are given definite assignments, they use their imaginations to the greatest when fulfilling them. The students enter their posters in contests, with many of them winning awards.

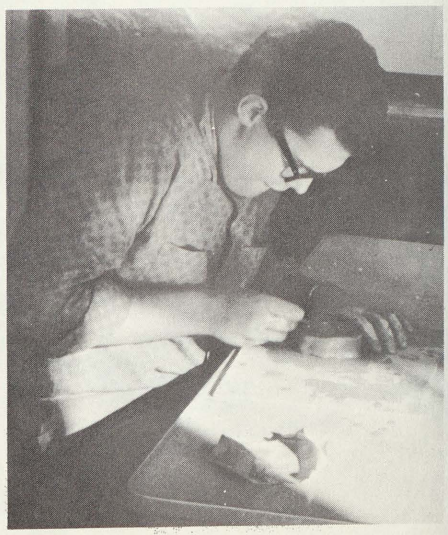

Clay work, jewelry, and many different designs made from clay are some of the constructive, and more pleasant, tasks of the crafts classes. These classes produce many things the students themselves can use.

Mechanical and architectural drawing are very serious courses. These are required for those who long to be engineers or architects. The curriculum calls for deep concentration and very strict attention to details.

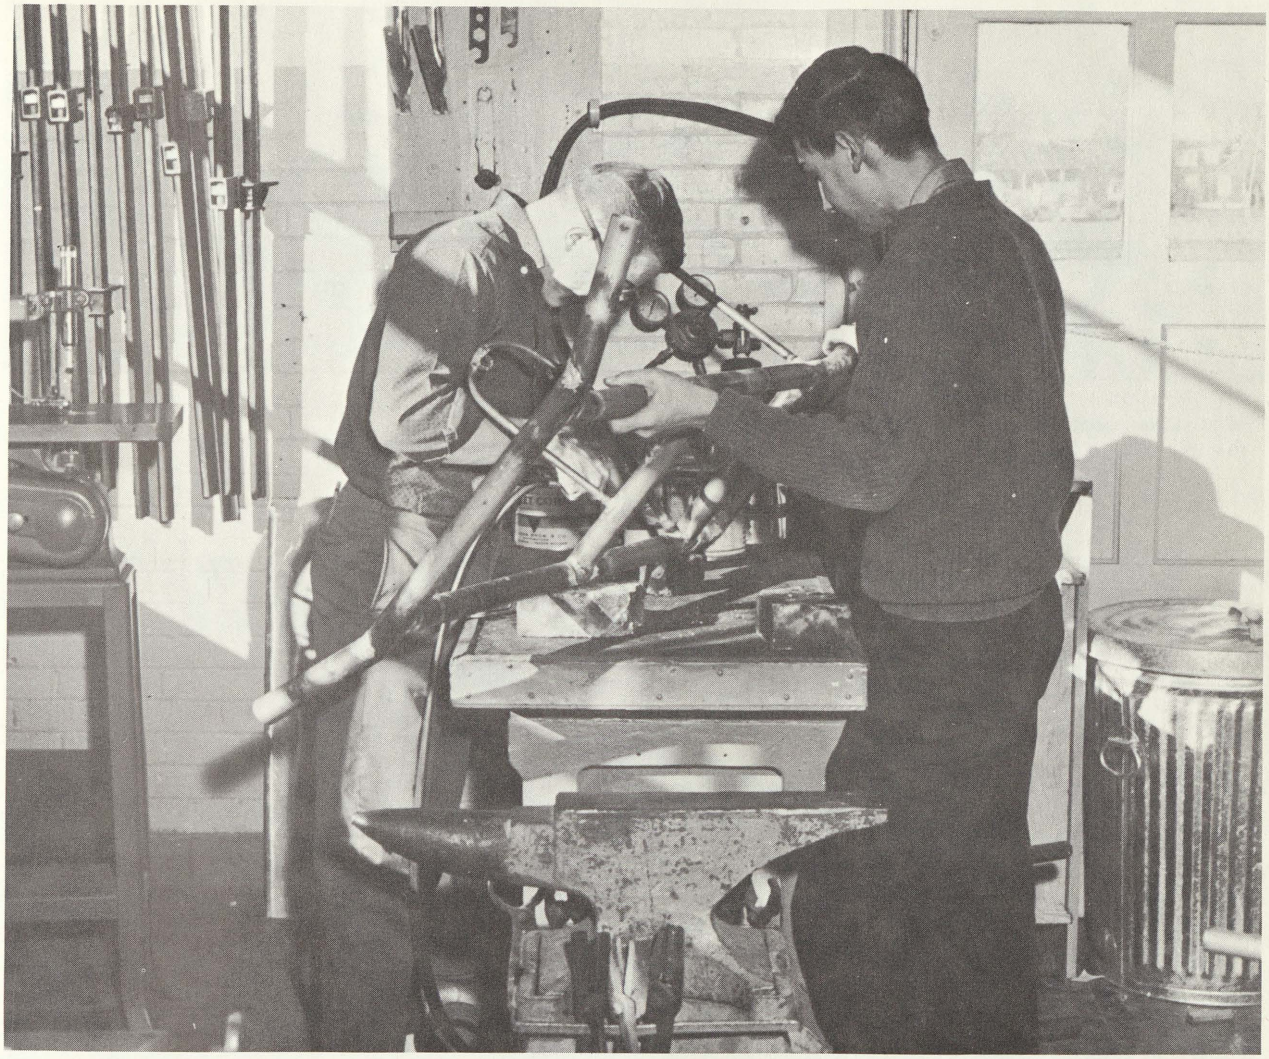

Industrial arts teaches boys to work with wood and metal safely. These students make things very useful for their daily lives.

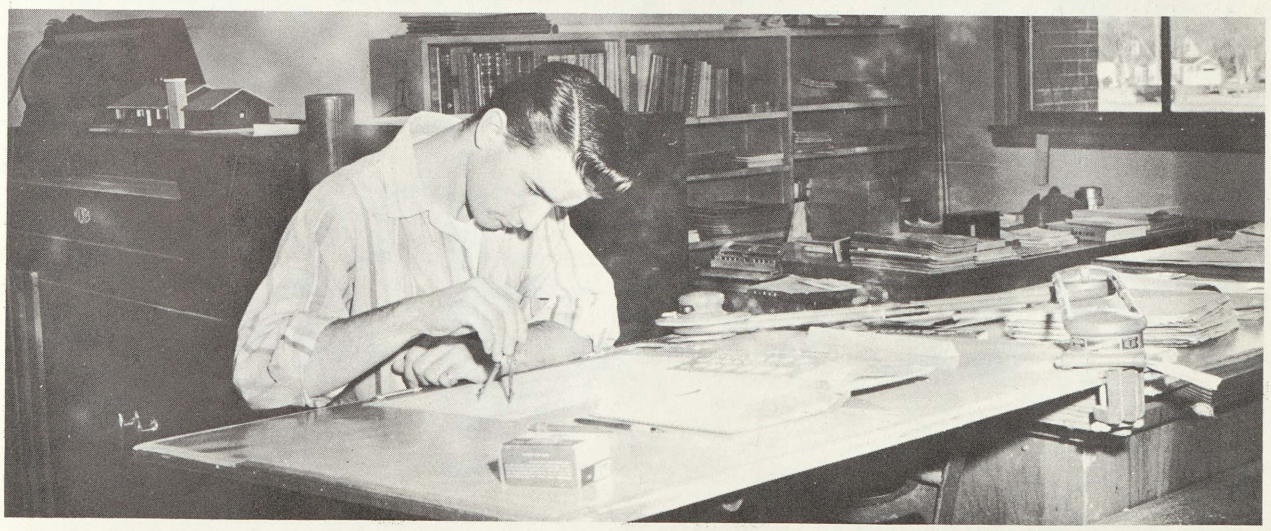

Tom Jones and Jim Birnbaum check specifications for the wiseman model.

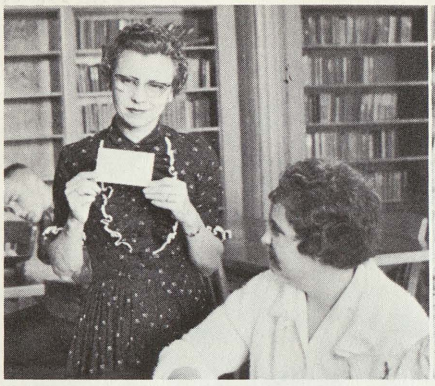

John Herman works with clay in his crafts class

Kirk Kirkpatrick and Bob Dietlein find welding useful in their shop work.

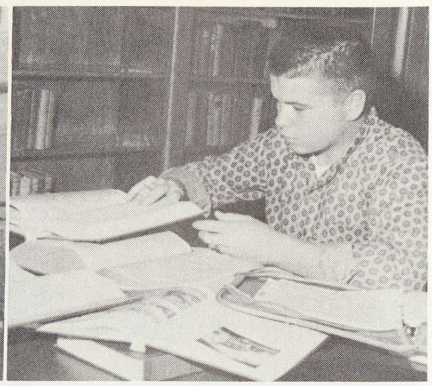

David Weber works to get every line exact in his drawing.

Miss Costa instructs seniors as to the use of the library.

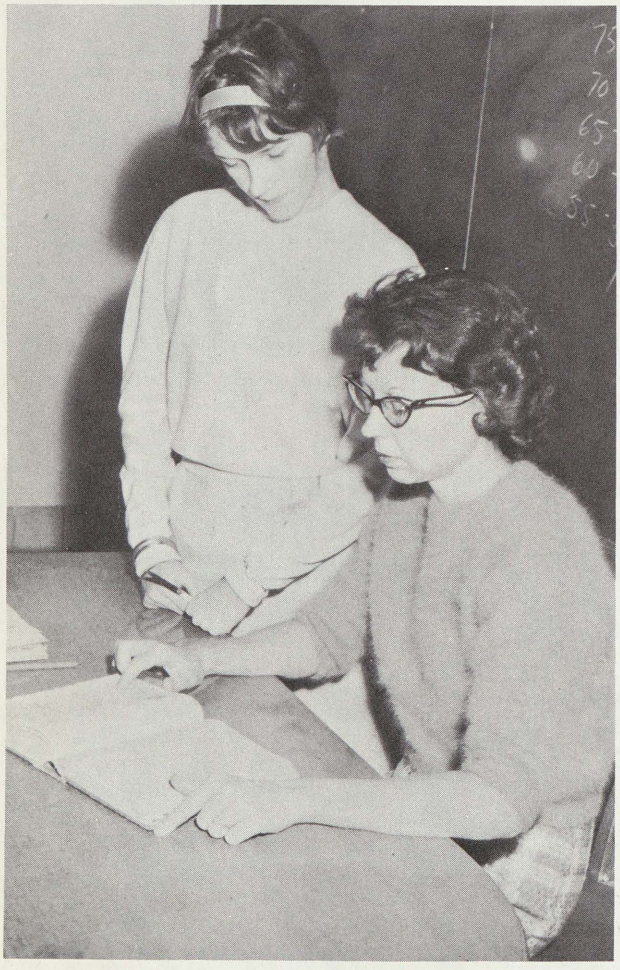

Sue Rhule uses the card catalogue.

George Hurst begins his research theme

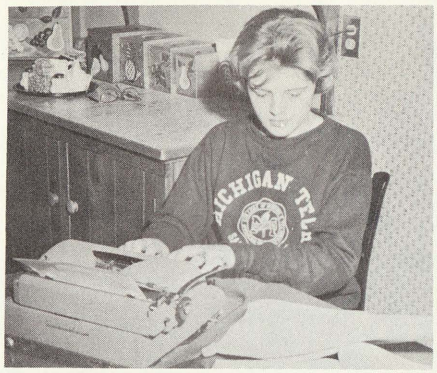

Themes Are Emphasized At Arthur Hill

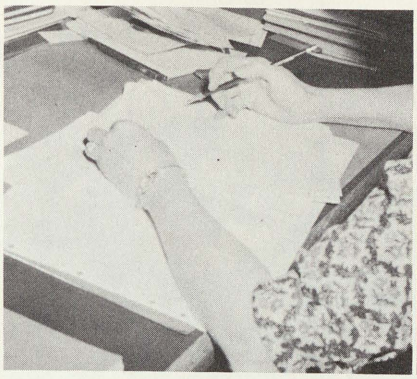

Mrs. Dancer illustrates the dictionary's usefullness in theme work to Linda Brown.

In line with administration policy to provide the best instruction for all students, the English Department offers classes on three levels: accelerated, academic, and basic. The six new accelerated classes move at a faster pace. Admission to these special classes is based on teacher recommendation, and grammer and reading tests. Academic classes aim at a comprehensive program in all phases of English, while basic concentrate on fundamental skills and practical application.

Accepting the theory that students learn by doing, the program puts a premium on composition, both oral and written. Impromptu, exposition, descriptive, and research themes are required. Precis, paraphrases, character sketches, interpretations, and book reports allow students to organize and present their ideas. The culmination for seniors is the thousand word research theme.

Chris Scorsone types her final copy.

Correcting the themes is a big job for Mrs. Harvie.

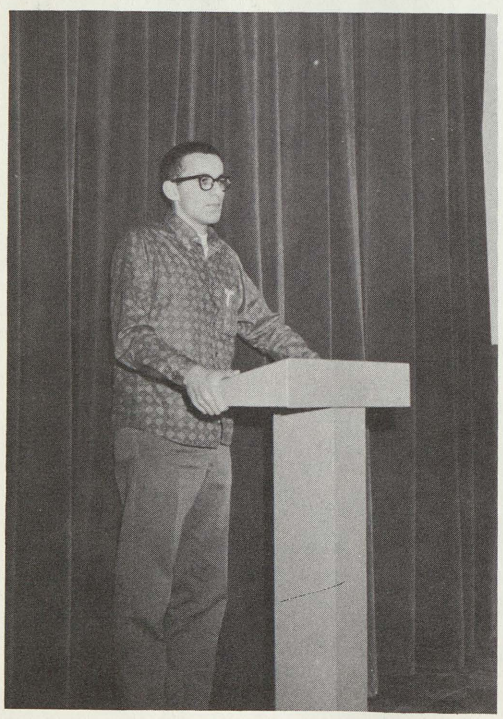

Mrs. Hamlin answers questions Karen Hillman has about her graded theme.

More individual help and theme work are part of the accelerated program. Miss Yates helps Ken Fisher.

Mary Rappuhn and Sue Brethauer give their demonstration speech entitled "How to Bathe a Dog."

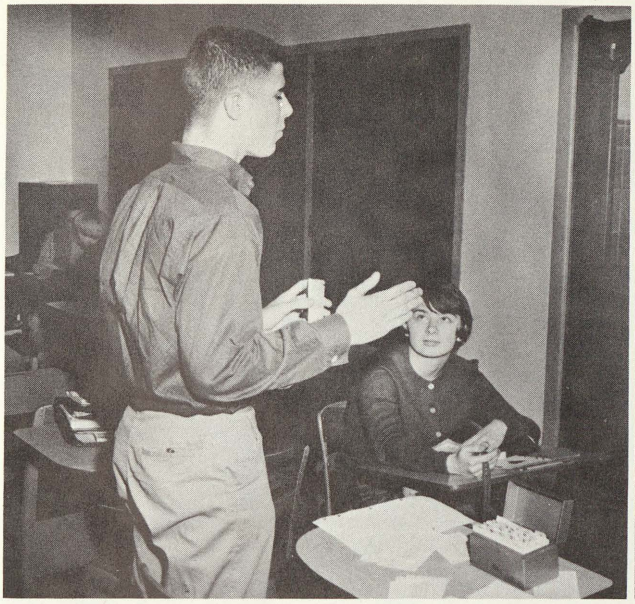

Bill Rohn seems confident as he gives his marking period speech.

Do you plan to become a lawyer, an orator, or a businessman? If you do, public speaking or debate will give you the poise and self-confidence that is needed to speak in front of the public.

Traveling to other schools is the Arthur Hill DebateTeam, coached by Mr. Birdsall. Debaters spend much time in research, and debating with members of the class.

Spring speech activities, under the direction of Mr. Grueber, complete the school year in the speech department.

Chris Link listens attentively as Fred Martin explains his point.

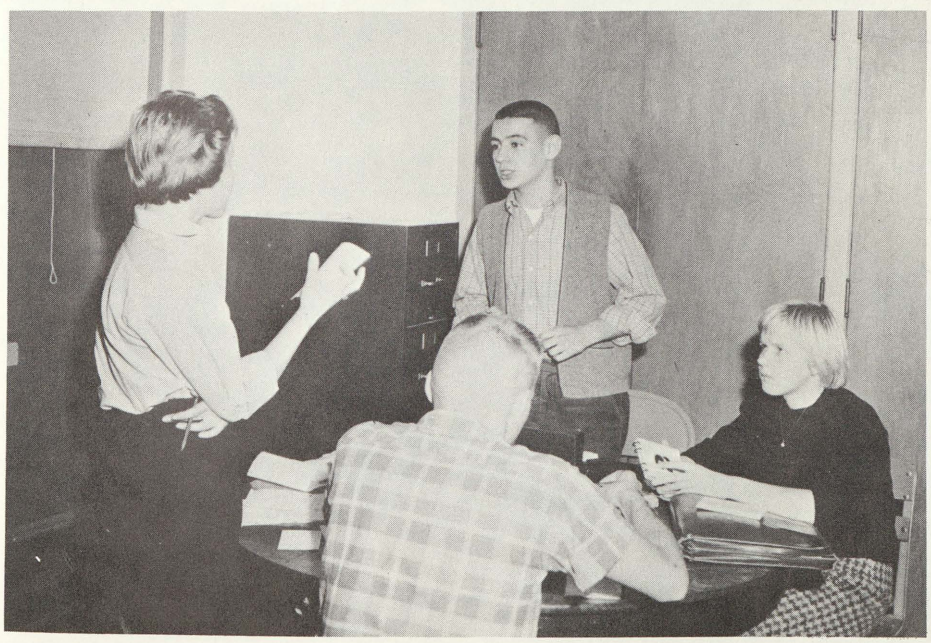

Ellen Timmons and Caroline Byron prepare themselves for the next debate.

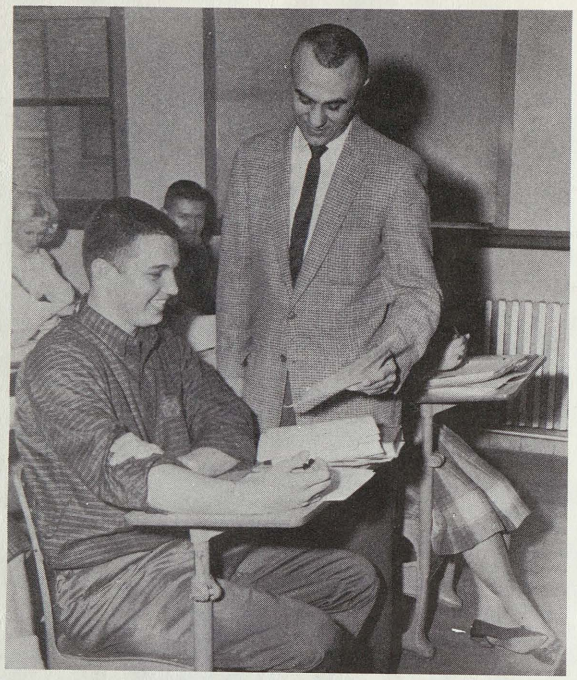

Speech Classes Offer Many Opportunities

Mary Brown leaves for a debate. →

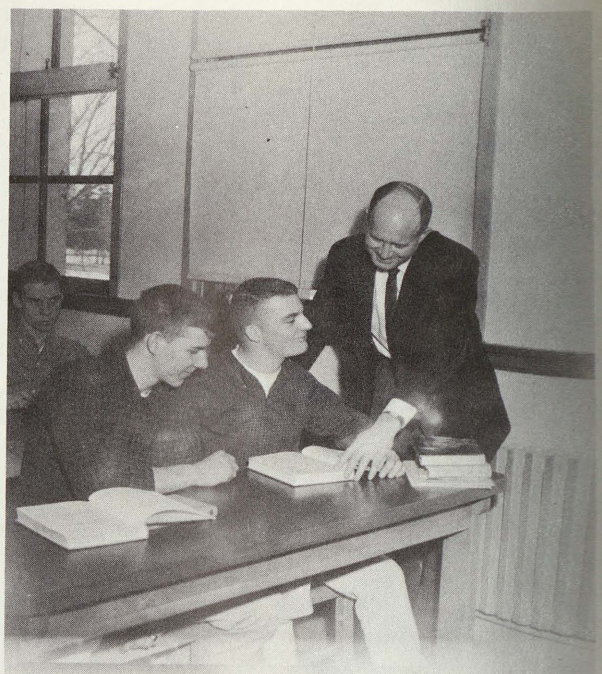

Joe Scorsone argues a point with Mary Senn as Carol Munck and Dick Zircle look on.

Larry Ross gets aid from Mr. Petzko with his world history assignment.

Mr. Wilson explains the first chapter of the sociology book to Bill Gunther and Don Schuler.

Juniors Commemorate the Civil War

Mr. Senn explains a stock report to Jerry Blank and Diane Weishuhn.

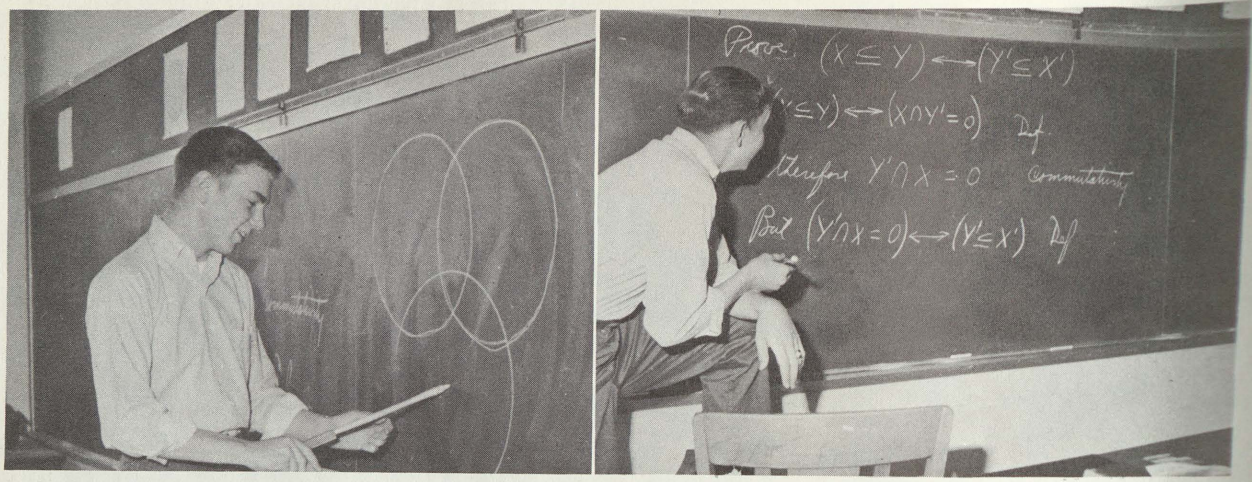

Fulfilling a required Civil War project in Miss Francis' American history class are Janet Brubaker, Bob Curtis, Mary Boulton, and Pat Panko.

One hundred years ago the great Civil War began. Commemorating this event, the American history classes gave special attention to the study of the Civil War. Events and the results of the war gave American history students a better knowledge of today's social and economic prolems.

Government, economics, sociology, geography, and world history help students gain new ideas plus a better understanding of today's world.

Mr. Shalk checks a previous government assignment with Dave Dupree.

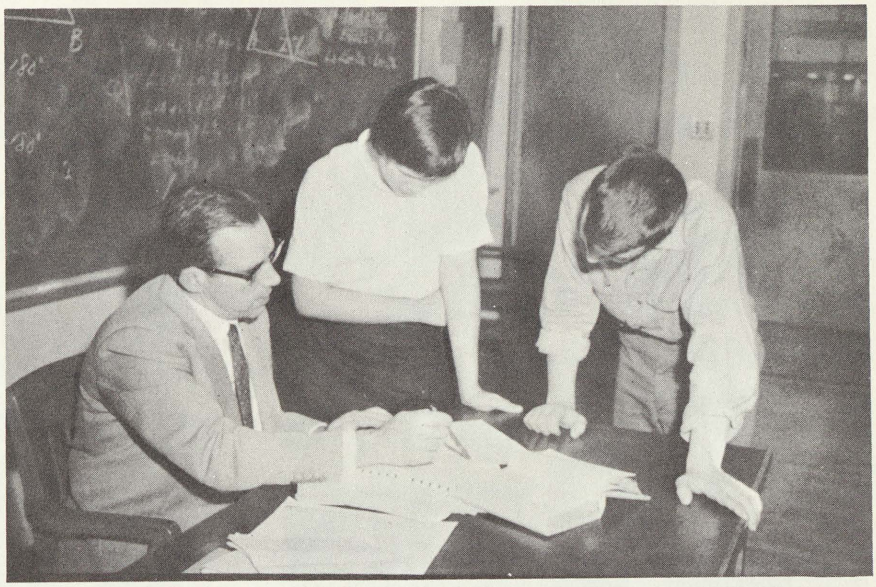

Jerry Enszer plays the role of teacher while explaining a trig problem to the rest of the class.

$$\left(\frac{12}{m^2} + \frac{4}{m^3} - \frac{21}{m^4}\right) \div \frac{4am + 6a}{5mx + 20x} \cdot \frac{mx}{6m^3 + 17m^2 - 28m}$$

Geometry students work on their next day's assignment.

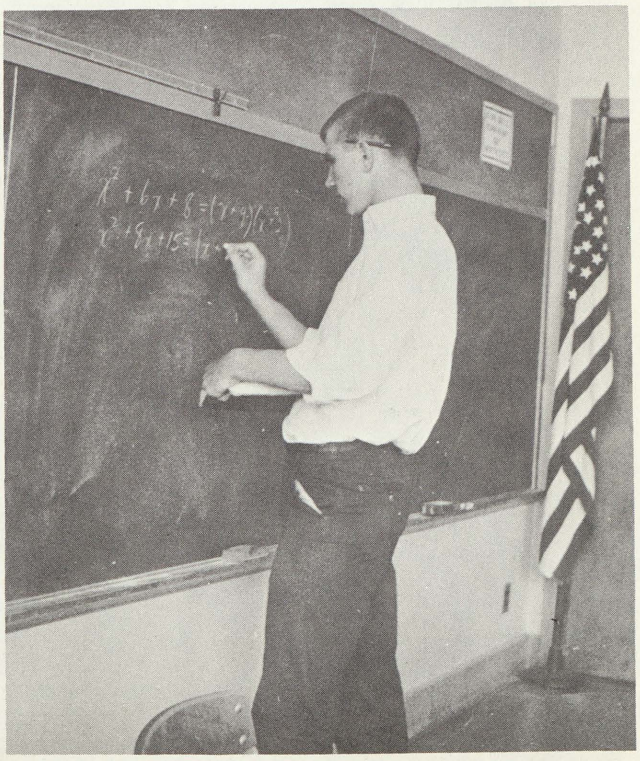

Mr. Purdy is always willing to explain difficult problems to his students.

Mathematics Aids Our Future

Dale Martin works baffling algebra problem.

Although most of us don't intend to become famous mathematicians, we should all have a good mathematical background to aid us in our everyday economical problems.

This year something new has been added. A combination course of mathematics, physics, and chemistry is being taught. The practical application of each subject is emphasized with particular relationship to the other subject. For example; an atomic problem might be solved involving the knowledge of these subjects and their simultaneous application to the problem.

Algebra, geometry and trigonometry prepare the student for advanced math. Business math, refresher math, and preparatory math make the student ready to carry out the everyday problems of the business world.

Inspecting a rock structure in natural science are Dennis Schaffer, Muriel Rice, Carol Thayer, and John Frehling.

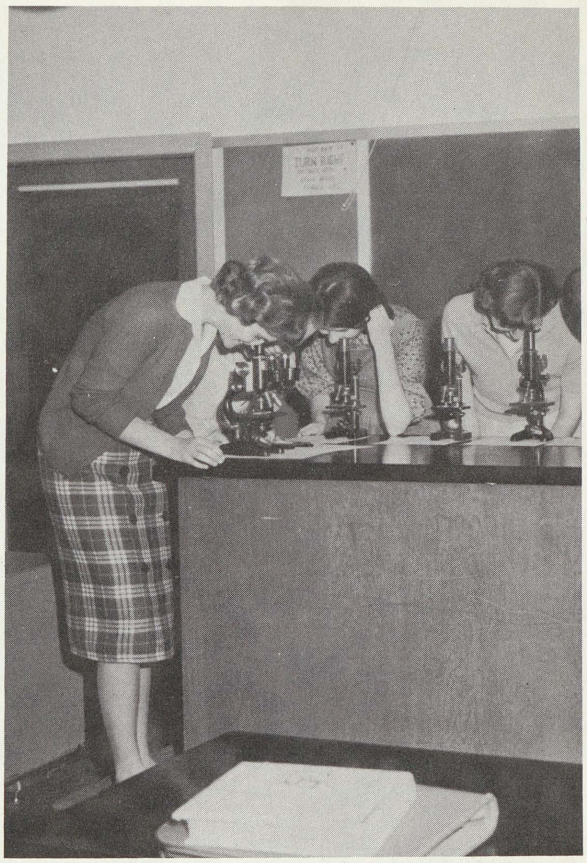

Chemistry student, Faye Scott, adds some HCl to her compound.

Dawn La Fond and Ellen Ryder enjoy the food they prepared in cooking class.

Mr. Hooper assists Mary Ann Huyghe and Ellen Thompson with a physics experiment.

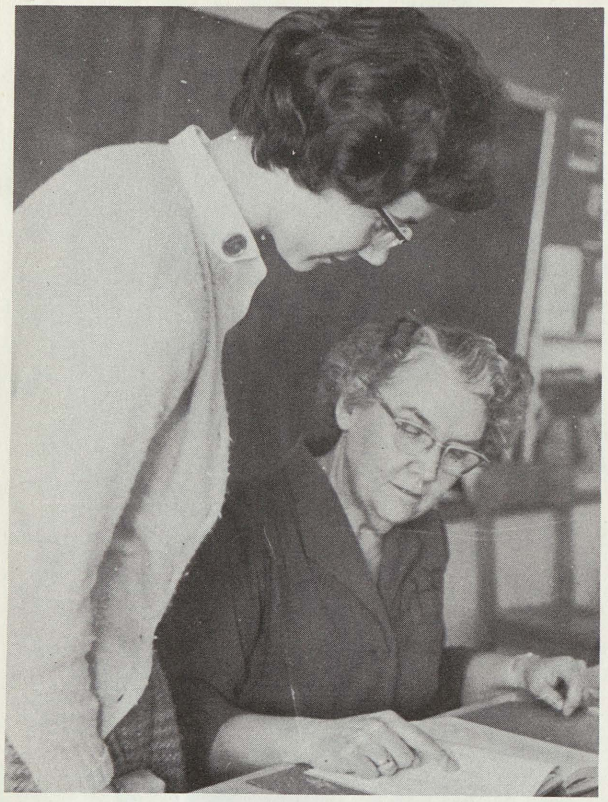

Demonstration slides open fascinating field to biology students.

Experiments Lead Science Classes To Learning

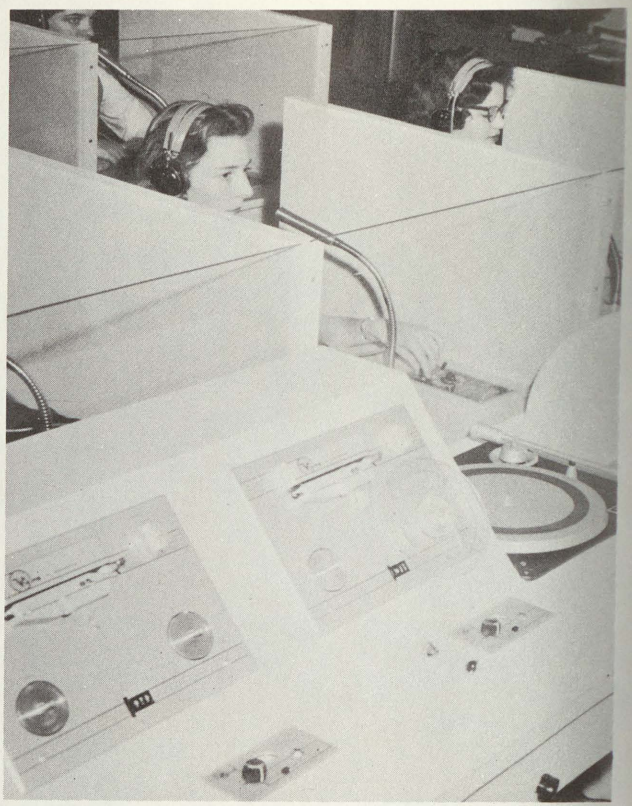

Sally Martin tests mental aptitude in psychology.

Progress, discovery, learning — these are the aims of the Arthur Hill science department. This year, a step toward greater learning was taken, when the physics and science departments joined to present a two-year accelerated science program of combined chemistry and physics. This class, an experiment in learning, offers a greater area of discovery for science students.

These students have no trouble getting used to the language laboratory.

Miss Kern's class begins work on the German exam.

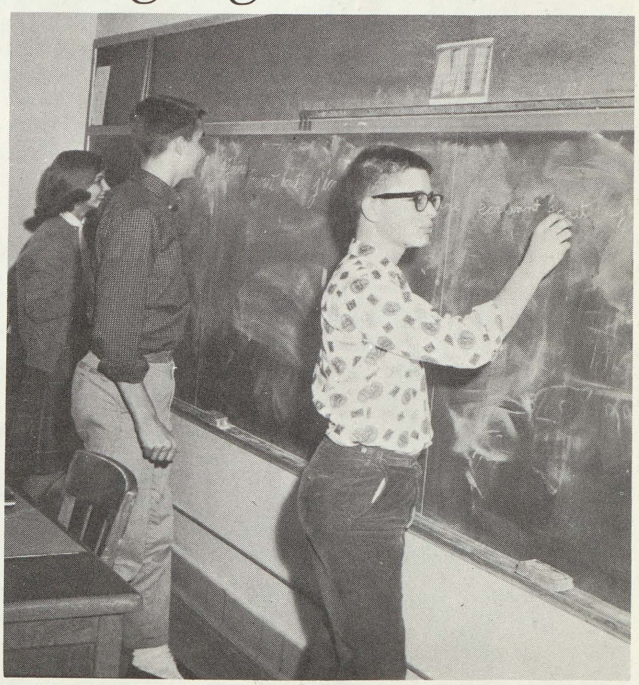

The new language laboratory proves very helpful in Mrs. O'Dell's Spanish class.

New Laboratory Aids Language Students

Foreign language students are very enthusiastic about the new laboratory added to Arthur Hill. This addition enables the student to hear the correct pronunciation of the foreign words. The student is then able to compare his own pronunciation with that of his teacher, and record his personal progress.

Latin, German, French, and Spanish are the foreign languages offered at Arthur Hill. College courses in these subjects prepare the student to pass entrance requirements. Conversational language classes teach students enough of the language that they are able to speak it, without learning many grammar rules.

Mary Bush, Bob Lytle, and Ed Timm write their French lesson on the board.

Responsible for the writing on the News are Sue Arft, News Editor, Nancy Pierson, Club Editor, Sharon Canady, Assistant Editorial Editor, Bonnie Ludlum, Irene Mielke, Vicky Lanar, Irma Krause, Mary Gottschalk, Sharon Scott, Paula Kerreous, and Kathleen Urbancik, Reporters.

Sharon Wright, Advertising Manager, Nancy Burback, Business Manager, Dale Timm, Junior, and Sharon Burt and Ida Mead, Typists, comprise the business staff.

Photographers Vernon Duloph, Richard Oltz, and Thomas Davis check over their work.

Arthur Hill News Reports Activities

Each edition of the Arthur Hill News is enthusiastically received by eager Hillites. The paper is distributed during advisory and often furtively read before the next class is through.

The News contains an accurate account of each activity at Arthur Hill, plus many articles of general interest to each student. Club notices, sports stories, Top of The Hill, and editorials are among the regular features. Reports on assemblies, special honors Hillites have received, and any other "news" make up the special features of the paper.

Under the direction of Miss Crump, each student staff member has a specific job to do. These jobs include reporting, writing, taking pictures, typing, and selling ads, the most important job of the business staff.

Ron McCrea, News Editor, checks copy before the paper can be printed.

Dick Curry and Dick Riefe report sports events for the News.

Classroom editors, Mary Boulton and Mary Schreur, write copy and measure pictures for their deadlines.

Pat Braun, club editor, measures pictures for her deadline.

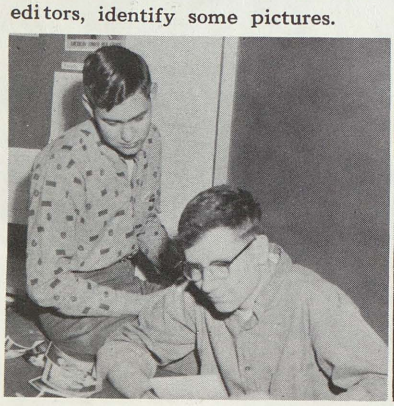

Mary Huyghe, underclassman editor, and Sue Holcomb, senior editor, work diligently to get their pages completed.

Under the supervision of the co-editors and Miss Murphy the Legenda staff labors to give complete coverage to all phases of school life at Arthur Hill.

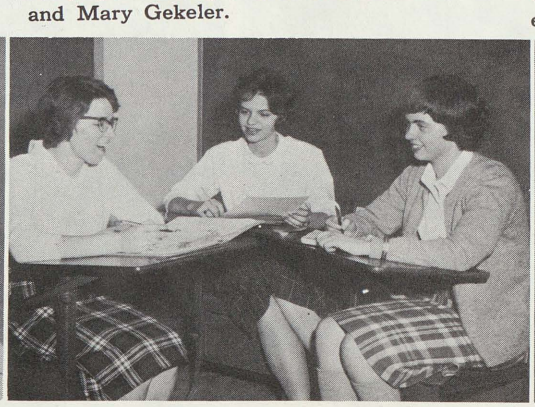

Eighteen students meet daily in room 120 sixth and seventh hours—sometimes both. Section editors determine the layouts, plan pictures, write copy and paste-up the finished pages. Three photographers armed with two cameras "shoot" at the request of staff members. Three advertising salesmen manage to sell a total of twenty-two hundred dollars in advertising, set up ads and paste up the twenty pages of their section.

Frustration, worry and hard work are forgotten as the staff proudly presides at traditional delivery on the stage of the auditorium on the last full day of school for seniors.

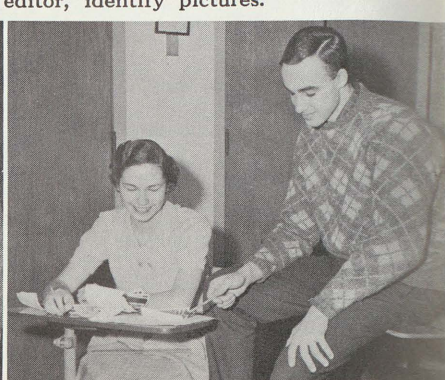

LeRoy Bauer and John Goes, sports editors, identify some pictures.

"How many ads have we sold now?" Mary Jo Landeryou asks Ruth Zahnow and Mary Gekeler.

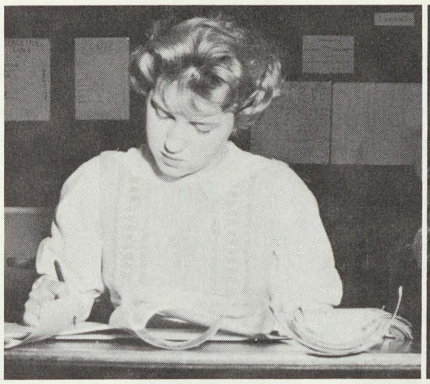

Bob Posey, sports editor, takes time out to help Shirley Canaday, special events editor, identify pictures.

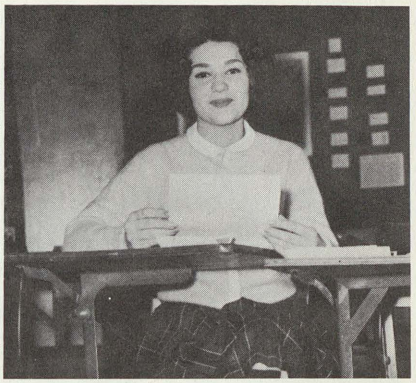

Karen Krause checks copy

Margaret Williams records pictures.

Cathy Brown takes care of her copy and pictures to be sent in.

Arthur Hill majorettes, all decked out in new ear muffs and gloves, capably led our marching band through their paces during half times at the football games last fall. The orchestra performs at many assemblies, and gives frequent concerts at other schools throughout the year. The band and orchestra combine to present the Spring Concert, the highlight of their many spring activities.

The Dance Band consists of a group of exceptional musical students who practice together and provide harmonious music for many dances and assemblies.

Football games are the marching band's speciality.

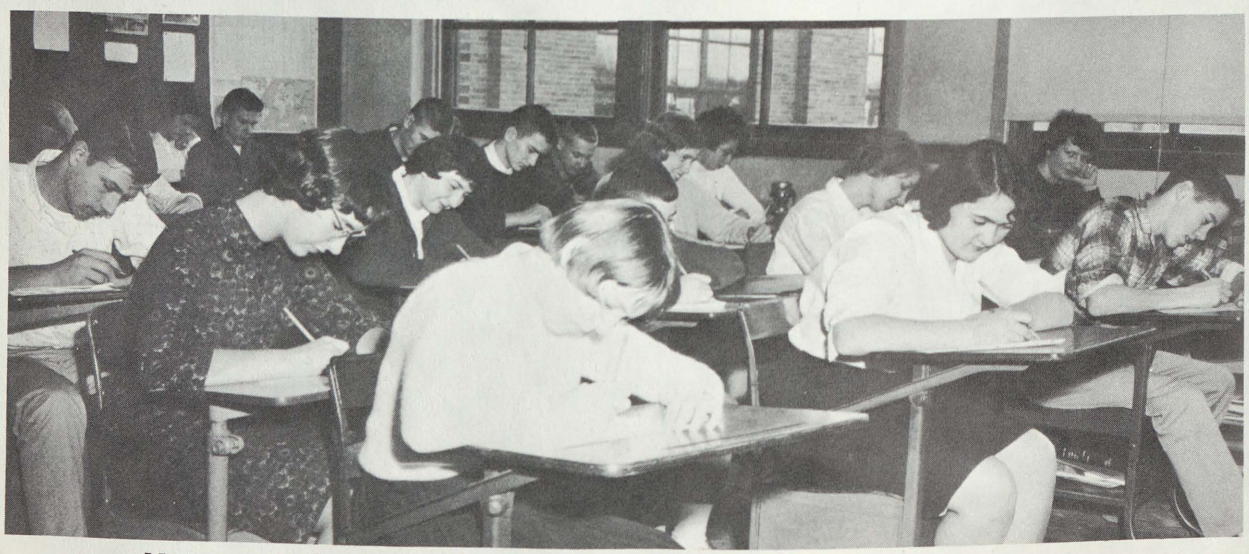

MAJORETTES: B. Kraft, L. Eldred, S. Jewell, C. Clayton, J. Fetherolf, P. Butterfield, M. Davis, J. Adair, J. Bailey, S. Harris.

Gym and Guidance Classes Reorganize

Mr. Murphy's guidance class quickly becomes accustomed to taking tests at Arthur Hill.

The correct turning procedure is learned in driver training.

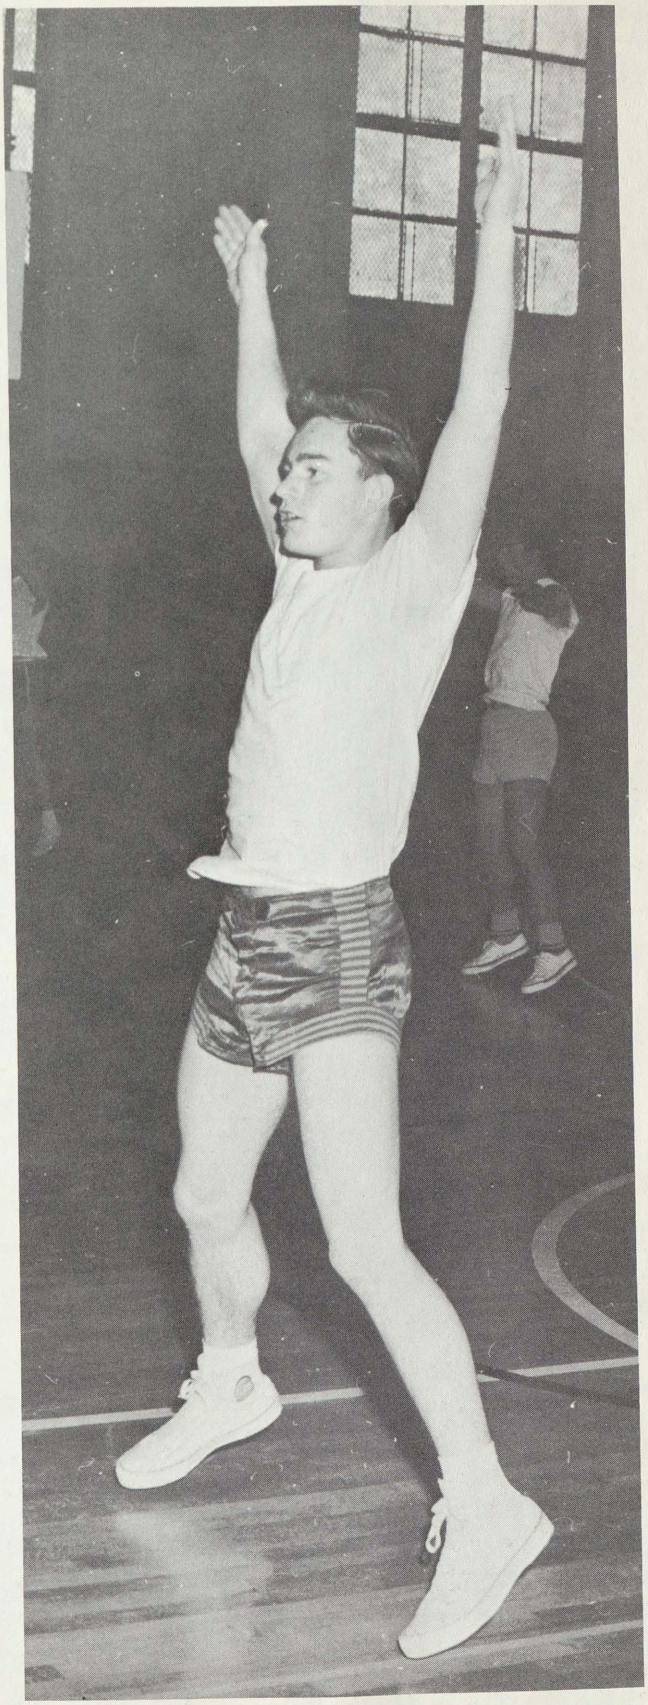

Real driving aids are used by driver training students.

Guidance classes, formerly art of living, are no longer segregated with all boys in some classes and all girls in the rest. The groups are mixed, and only sophomores take the course. Introduction to High School, standardized tests, and orientation to high school are all part of the guidance program.

This year juniors can drop gym from their program for another class with the approval of the counsellors. Gym classes do a variety of things, ranging from badminton to drill work to calisthenics, with swimming a welcome break from the everyday routine.

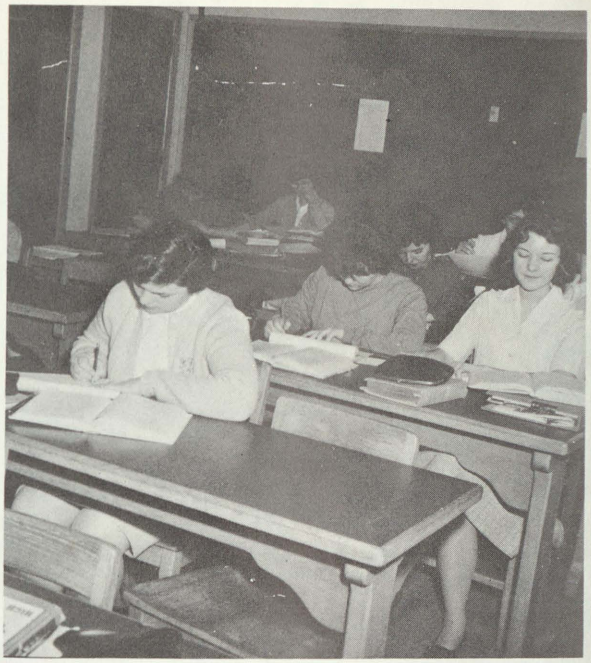

A special four week driver's training class is given to sophomores, and the students are now taken from their study halls instead of gym classes.

Bob Jolin demonstrates one of the required exercises in his gym class.

Carol McPhilimy makes change for a customer in business training.

Students in bookkeeping work on their next day's assignment.

An employee assists Jackie Hartfelder in selecting an outfit.

Judy Rexius listens and types what she hears from the dictaphone.

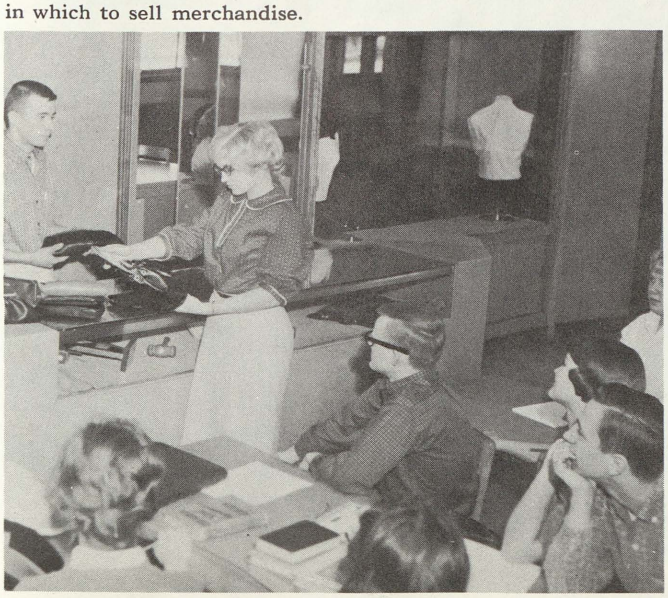

Typing students work hard to get their assignment completed.

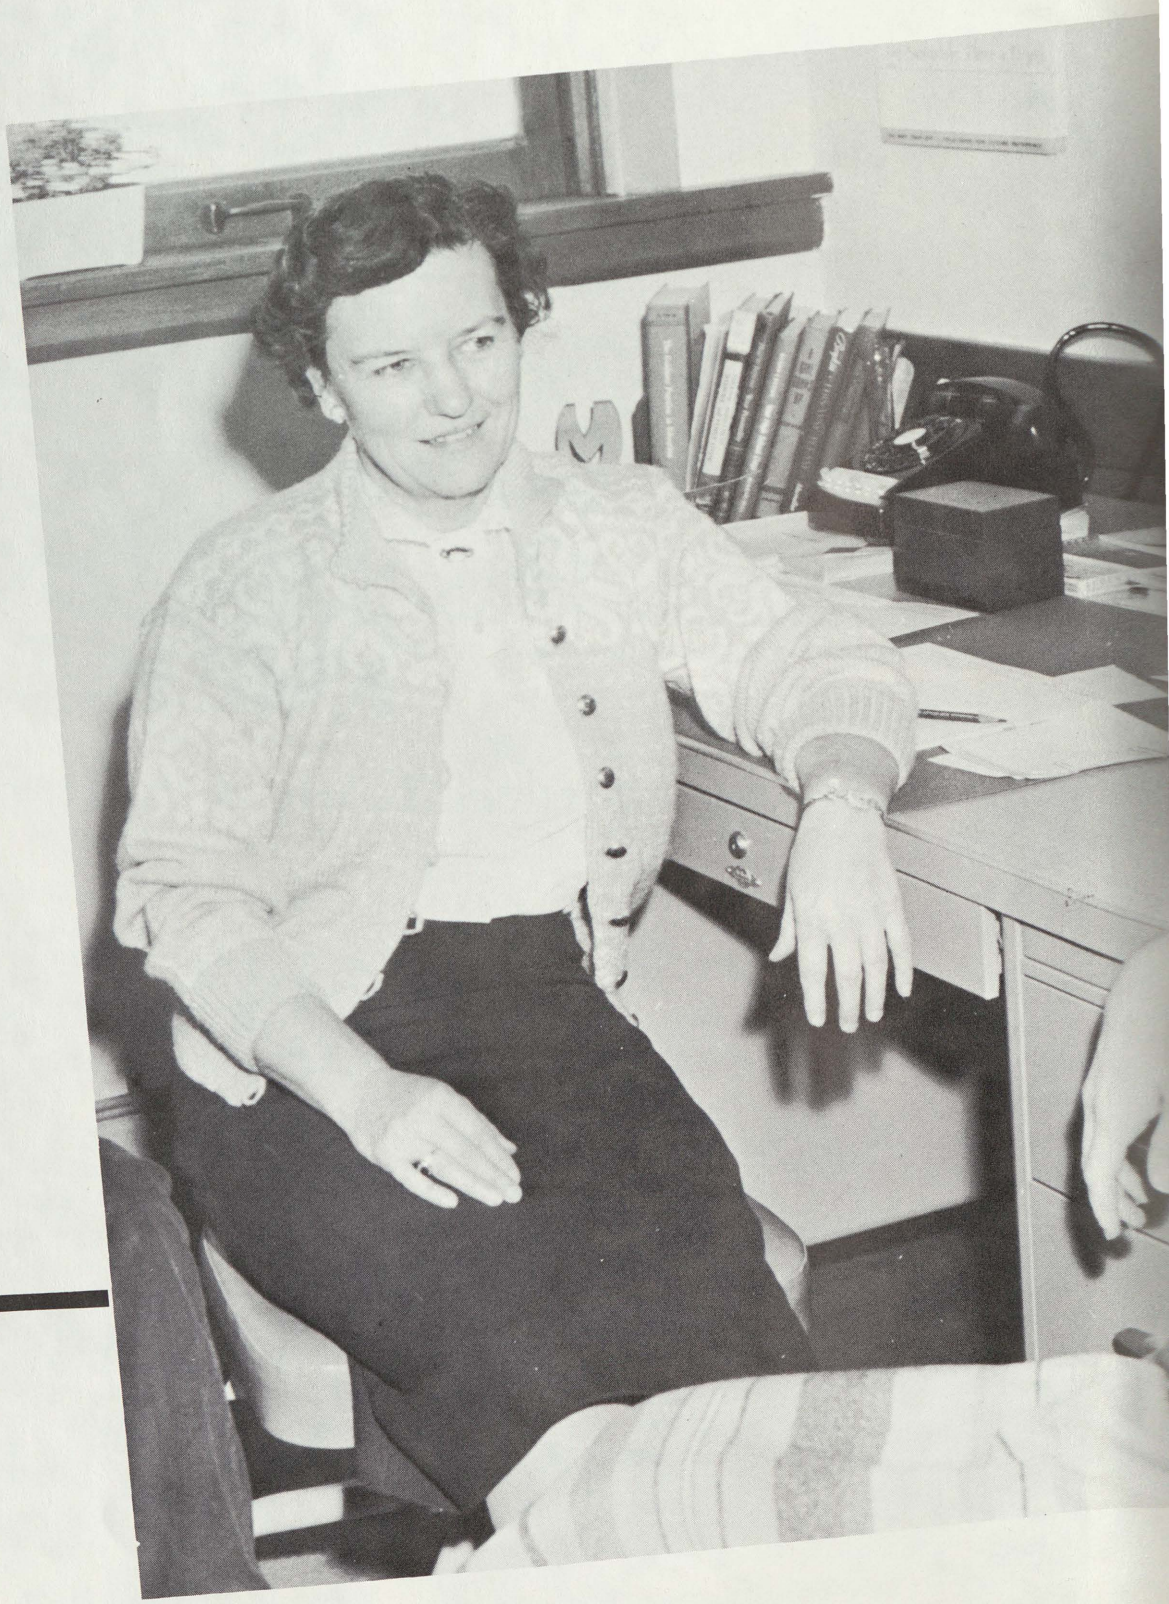

Future Business Leaders Train at A. H. H. S.

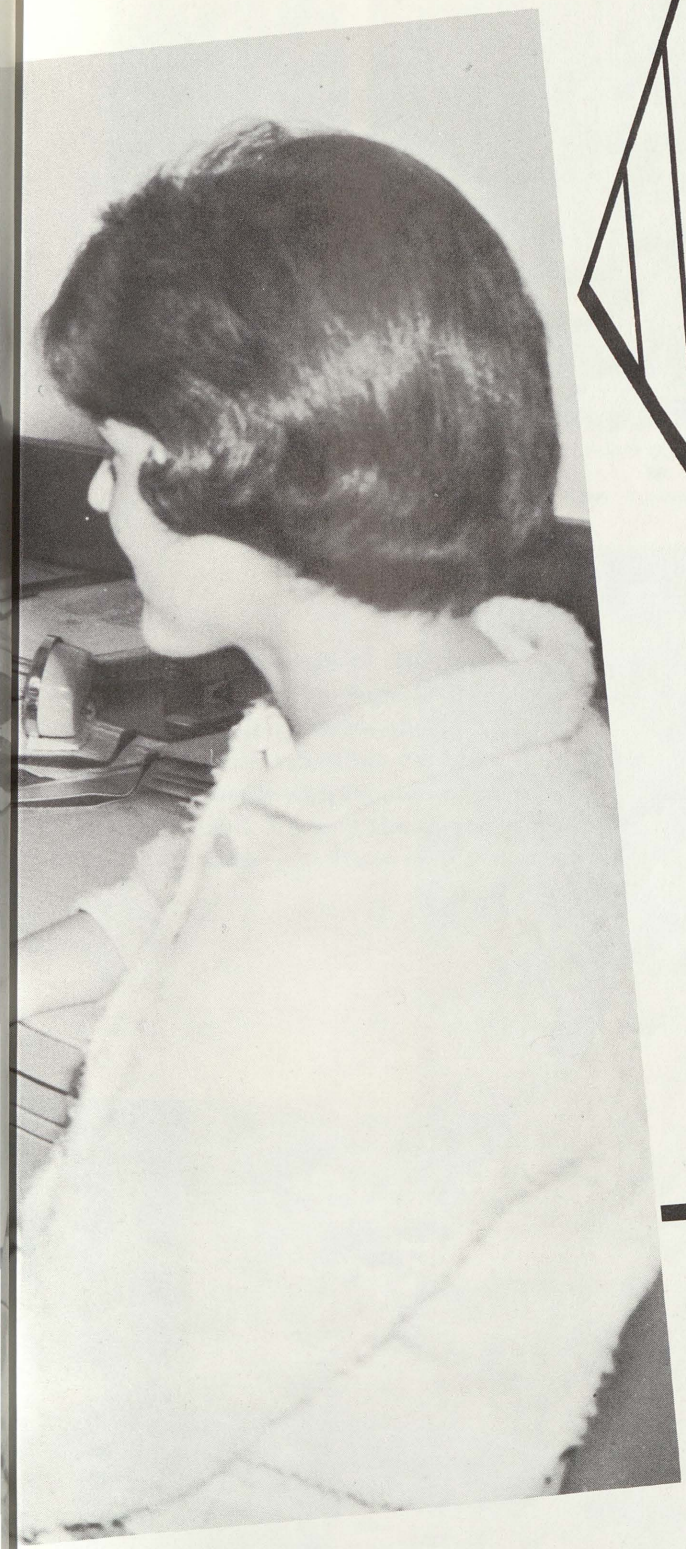

Tari Malone and Jerry Rogers demonstrate the proper way in which to sell merchandise.

Are you interested in earning some money, on-the-job training, and getting out of school early, too? If you are see Mr. Hartman. He'll help you find a job through the cooperative training program.

Students who have not qualified or are still training for future positions may take typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business training, office training, and salesmanship. On the other hand, students take shorthand and typing to help them with note-taking and term papers at college.

Two Counselors Added to Aid Sophomores

Mr. Brock's friendly voice heard daily on the P.A. during advisory sets the tone for the friendly, helpful administration that is responsible for the efficient, smooth-running operation of Arthur Hill High School.

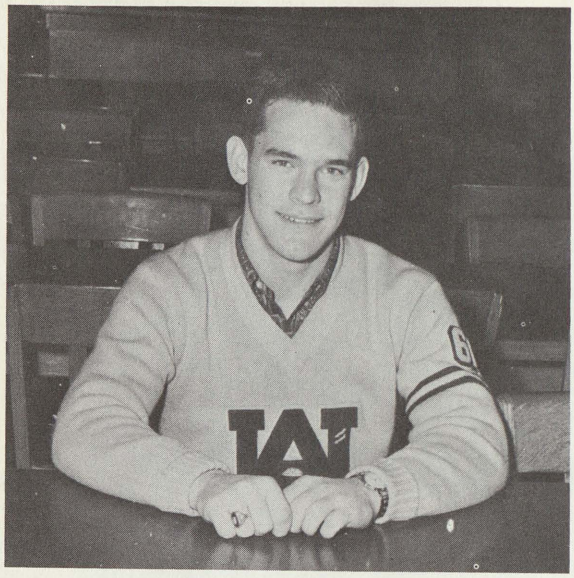

This year Miss Doidge and Mr. Herzler were added to the counseling staff to guide sophomore girls and boys respectively. Miss Doidge formerly taught gym and Mr. Herzler taught geography at Arthur Hill and both were therefore well acquainted with the school. Since more and more Arthur Hill students are going to college and since college entrance requirements are becoming more rigid and complicated it is especially important that students be counseled on first entering high school.

Parents Display Interest in Their Teenagers.

Evidence of the interest parents take in their teenage sons and daughters is the large membership in the Arthur Hill Parent Teacher Student Association. This year the open house meeting was especially successful as it was organized so that each parent followed his child's daily program, spending approximately ten minutes in each class. The annual card party and spring picnics were enthusiastically attended as usual.

Special Events

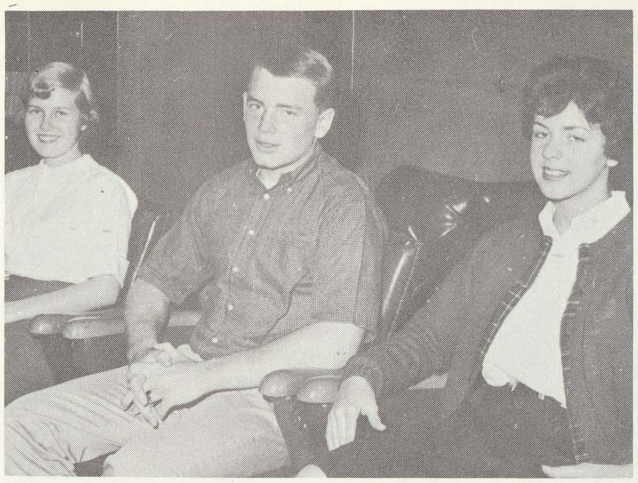

"There lies your date, boys. Did you buy an S. O.?" ask Jerry Calkins, Barry Prim, and Ed Beyer.

So, Booster Campaigns Sell Entertainment

The S. O. Campaign was advertised by posters in the halls.

Excitement and spirits run high as the S. O. Campaign gets under way. Competition is steep and everyone wonders whether Superwoman will lead the girls to another victory, or whether the boys will break the long-standing record and win this year's campaign. P. A. announcements, morning concerts, posters, and student parades urge every student to support his school and buy an S. O. As the campaign nears its end, it becomes clear that the girls will triumph again. Next year, perhaps the boys will win the campaign, but this year the honors go to the girls.

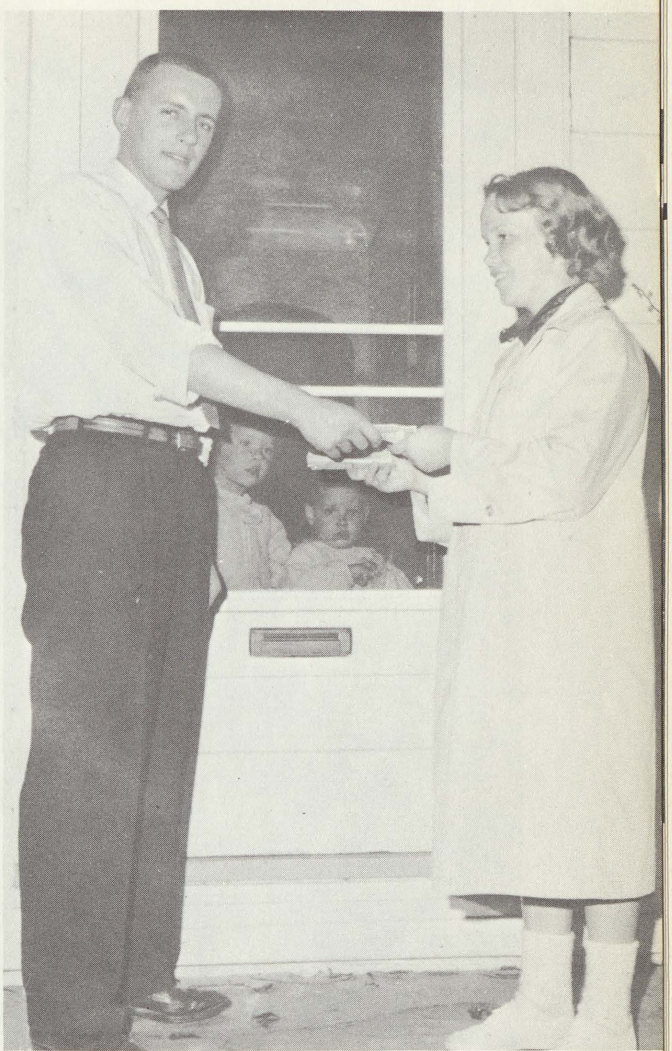

Pat Fobear, Chuck Glass, and Prudy Otto lead Hillites SO Campaign.

These boys attract a large crowd as they march through the halls.

Superwoman and posters lead the girls to another victory. Congratulations, girls!

4-S Booster Sale surpasses all previous records. Hyatt Carter purchases a book of tickets from Donna Hughes.

Despite this musical entertainment, the boys again were defeated.

The 1960 Homecoming royalty are Janet Adair, Pat Butterfield, Bette Bear, Prudy Otto, Pat Fobear, Queen Cathy Brown, Bonnie Humphrey, Shirley Branch, Chris Scorsone, Sharon Worthington, Nancy Clements.

Mike Yeager escorts Queen Cathy to the stage.

Queen Cathy accepts the gold football from Tom Panko.

At Interview Assembly, Mr. Grueber talks with the queen.

Queen Cathy and her court preside over the Coronation Assembly.

Queen Cathy Upholds Hillite Dignity

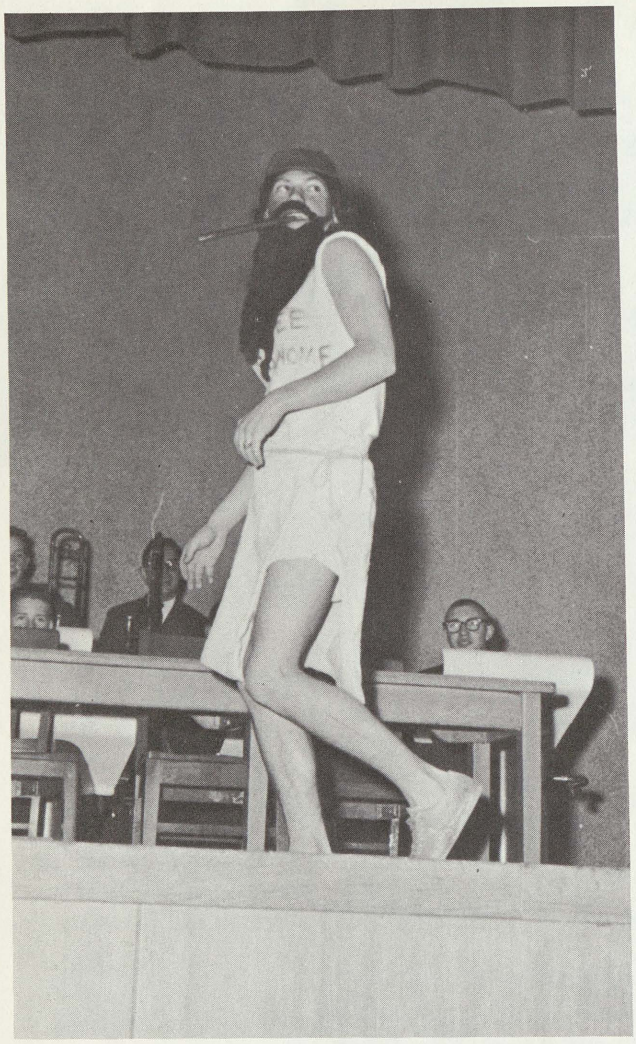

Tom Panko pays tribute to Cathy with a kiss.

1960 Homecoming—a royal reign by Queen Cathy Brown and her court—will be a time long remembered at Arthur Hill. Perhaps, as the years pass, students will forget the balloting in advisories for their choice, the assembly where the twenty-two nominees are interviewed, or the election day when the eleven winners are announced, but they can never forget the solemn and beautiful coronation assembly, where the students, teachers, and parents honor the queen and her court. Nor can they forget the big game and the dance later. At the game the queen is presented with a gold football as a tribute to the respect each Hillite holds for her. Later at the dance Hillites, the court, and their escorts, dance to the music of the Arthur Hill Dance Band. These girls, and every Hillite, will never forget Homecoming.

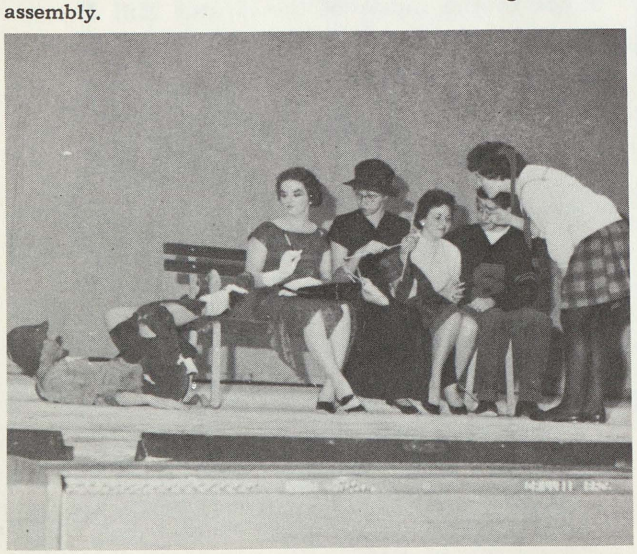

The queen and her court sing to the Hillites at the Homecoming Game.

Cuba's "beauty queen", Tom Burkard, is interviewed in the S. O. Assembly.

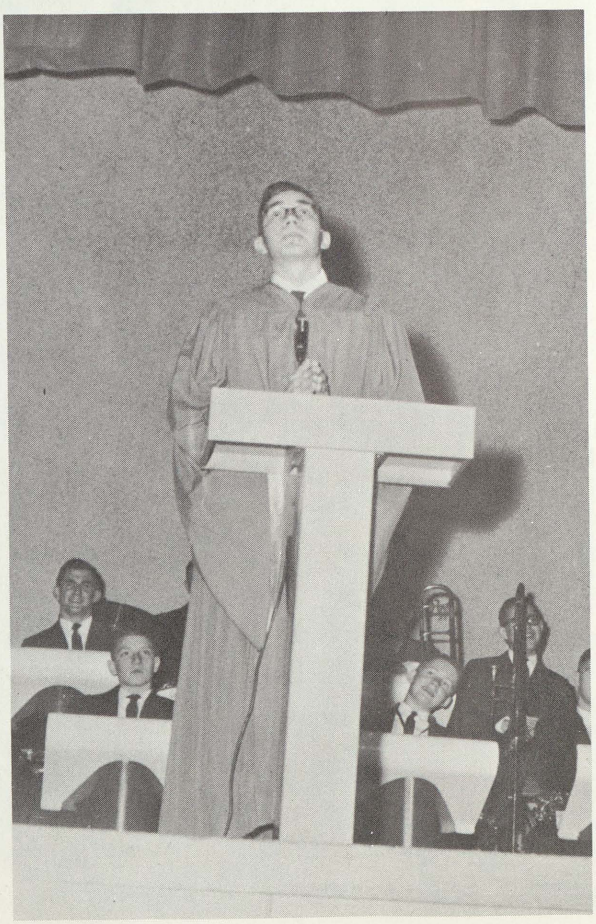

The hard life of a bum is displayed in the exchange assembly.

Tom Peters, Nick Oppermann, Jerry Wright, and Ron Grigsby sing "Little Darlin'."

Howard Kraenzlein presents a dramatic reading from Mike Hammer.

Honoring the dead on Veterans' Day are Bill Cook, Ken Bublitz, Kent France, Tom Wolfgram, Tom Hill, Alex Young.

Assemblies Offer Comedy, Music, Drama

The a capella choir provided music for the solemn Veterans' Day Assembly.

Assemblies at Arthur Hill vary from music and comedy, to talks from businessmen. The S. O. and exchange assemblies provide the lighter side, while the Veterans Day, Christmas, and honor assemblies exhibit the solemn and dignified aspect of Arthur Hill.

Every two weeks an assembly is presented under the direction of Mr. Ralph Grueber.

Bob Curtis, Marty Steinbecker, Beth Agricola, and Peter Schilling take the lead roles in the semester play.

Hillites Receive Performances With Applause

Again this year, Arthur Hill's annual Christmas Pageant and semester play receive well-earned praise and applause. Under the direction of Mrs. Mary McEwen, the Christmas program and the one act mellerdramer, "No, No, A Million Times No," were presented to the public.

The Christmas Pageant is presented annually for the public.

Students Become Goodwill Ambassadors

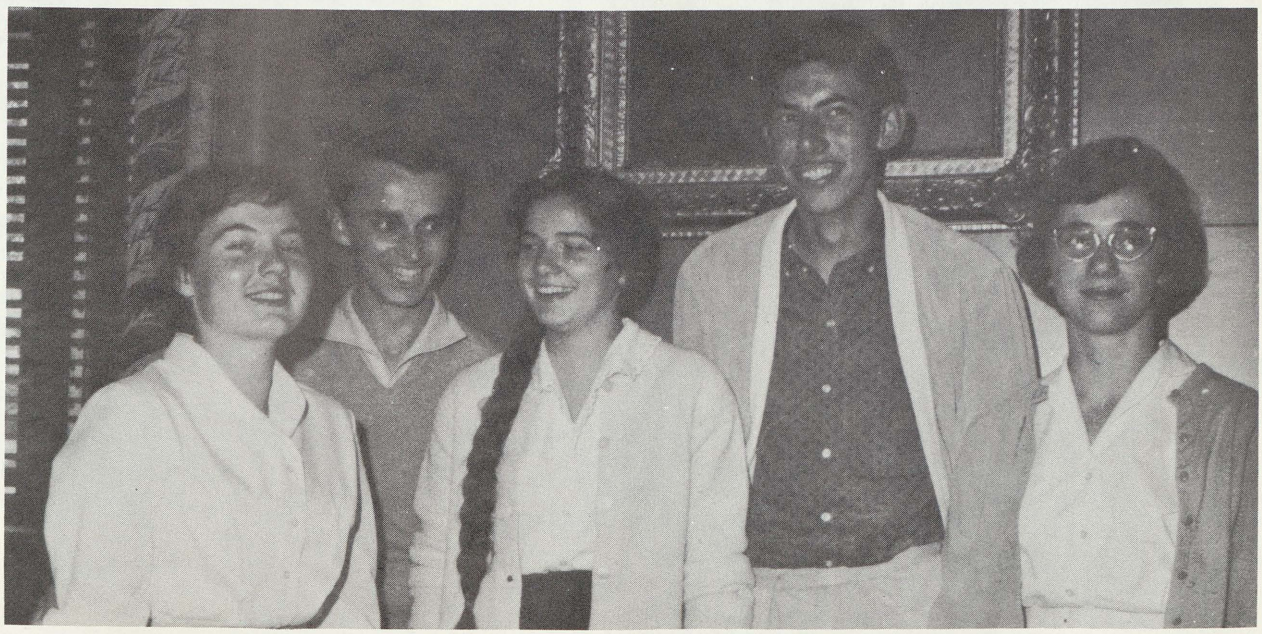

This year Arthur Hill is sending twelve exchange students as goodwill ambassadors to Europe. There they will live with an adopted family and learn the customs and habits of the Europeans. In exchange, Europe sent to Arthur Hill five students, who stay with an American family and attend school as Arthur Hill students. This exchange promotes goodwill and a common understanding between Europe and America.

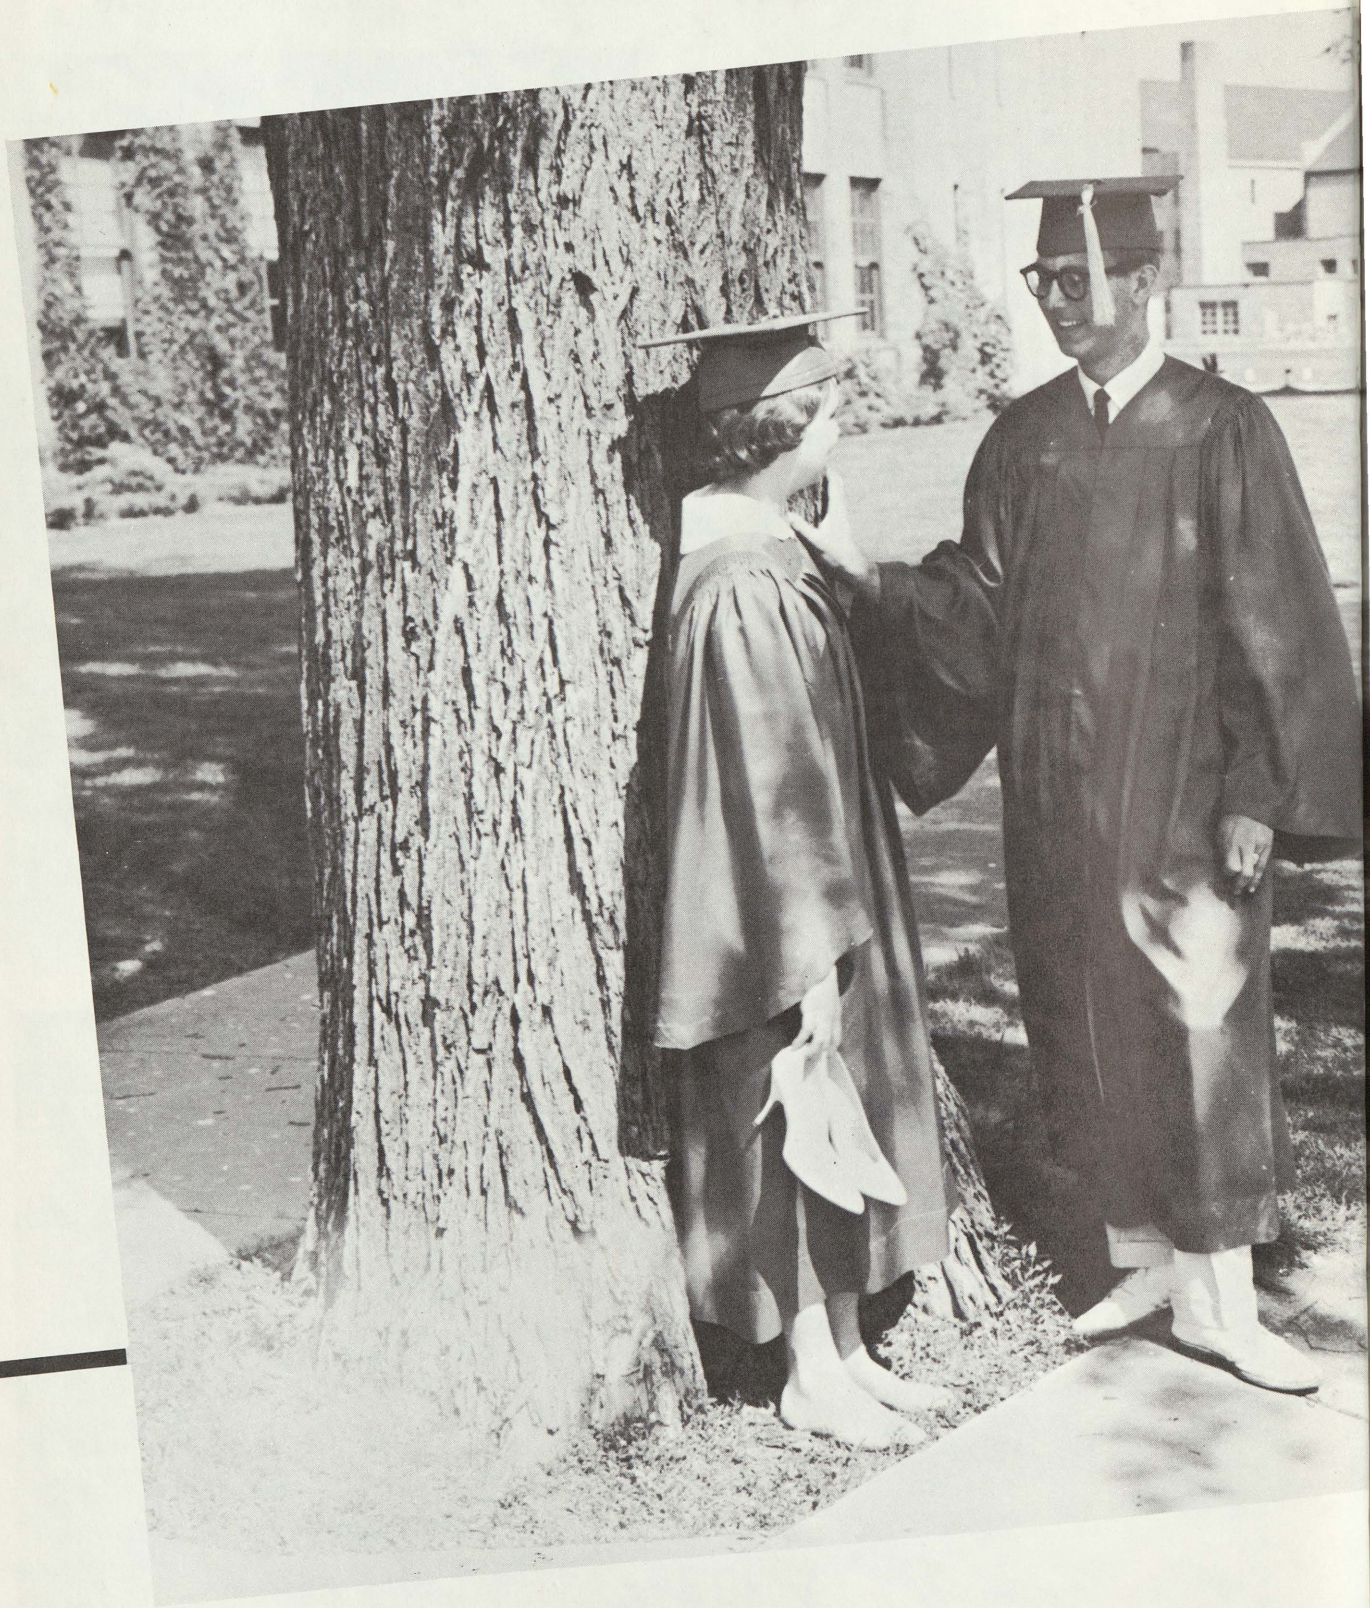

Exchange students are Jackie Martin, Judy White, Karen Bohnhoff, Nancy Schneider, Sandra Sumption, Brenda Shear, Sally Schmick, Judy Wilson, Mary Gottschalk, Mike Klein, Art Barr, and Dave Sare.

Mary Gottschalk and Ellen Timmons discuss German life with Sabine Schwartz.

Halfback, dropkicker, Ron Maturen

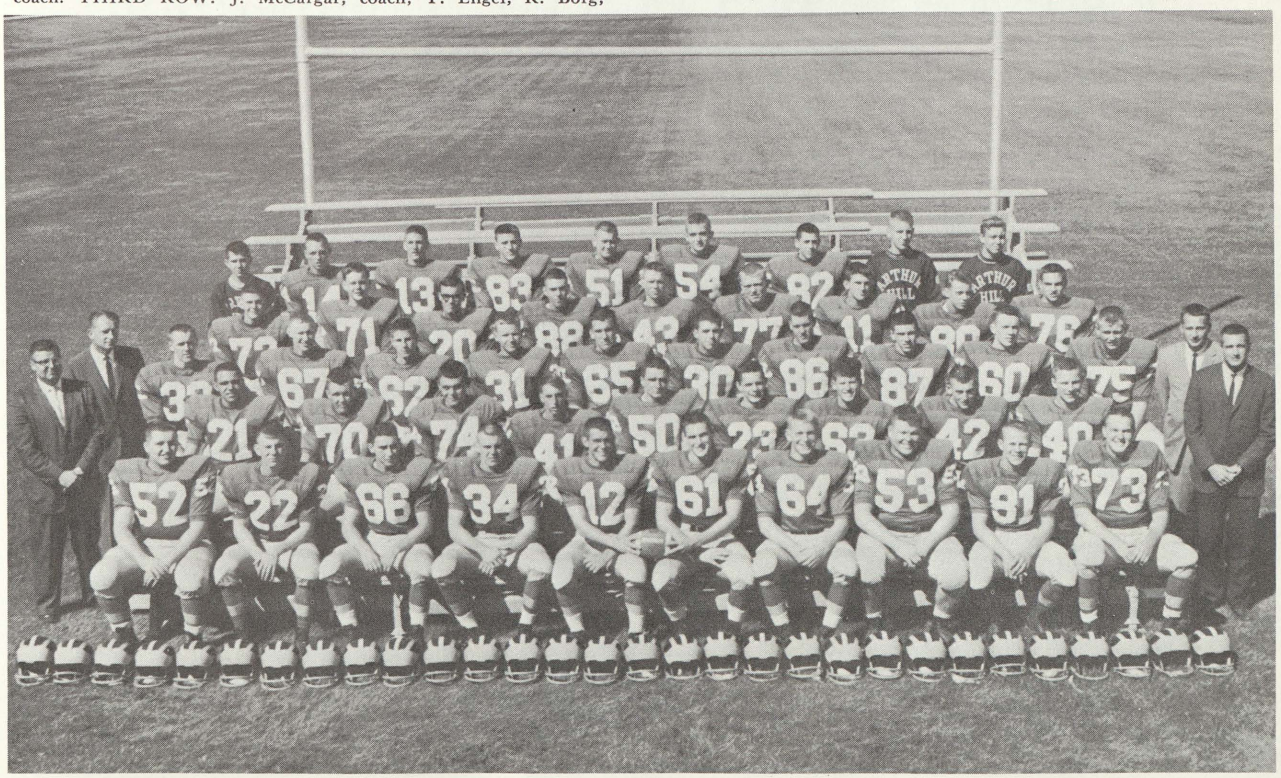

Led by the "Red Raiders" and an inspired offense, the Lumberjacks rolled to an impressive 26-13 victory over the Trojans of Saginaw High. This game climaxed a season which saw the Hills post a record of 3-5-1. However this record is not a true measure of the team's ability as the majority of the teams played were among the top ten in the state.

AH Valley Champions

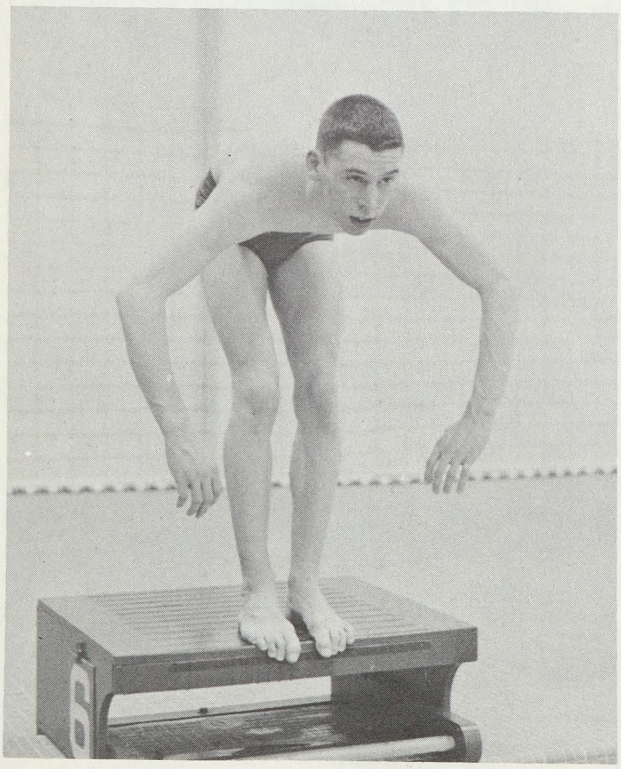

Arthur Hill's swimming team splashed to nine victories, but dropped two meets to Bay City Central. Although the team was hampered several times by injuries, Coach Gainey's tankers enjoyed another good season.

On March 4, Arthur Hill was host to the valley meet. For the sixth consecutive year, our tankers captured the Valley Championship by edging Bay City Central 52 to 51. Jim Wilhelm and Dennis Day provided Arthur Hill with first places. Day also established a new Valley record in the butterfly event.

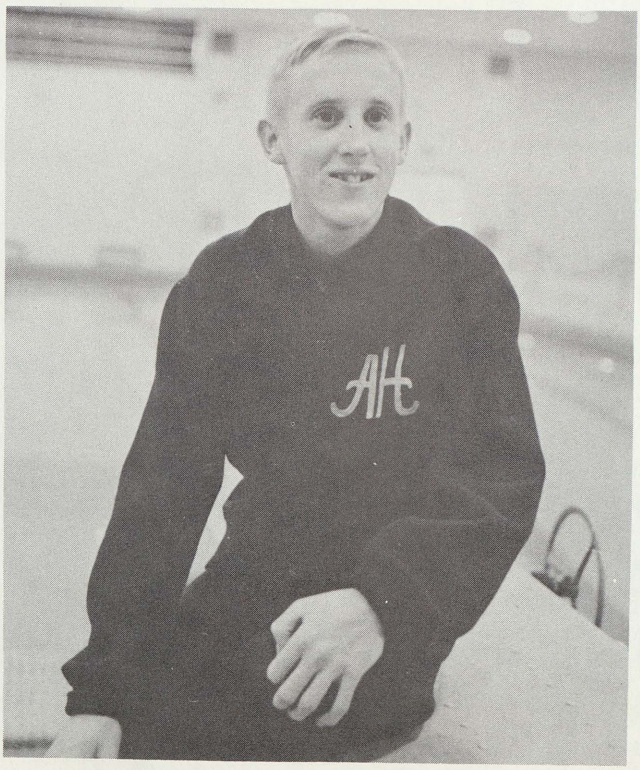

Jim Wilhelm, undefeated swimmer of the individual medley event, was elected captain of the 1962 swim team.

All eyes are on the ball during Arthur Hill's opening game victory over Ann Arbor High.

Sophomore sensation Craig Dill tangles with three Pioneer cagers for an important rebound.

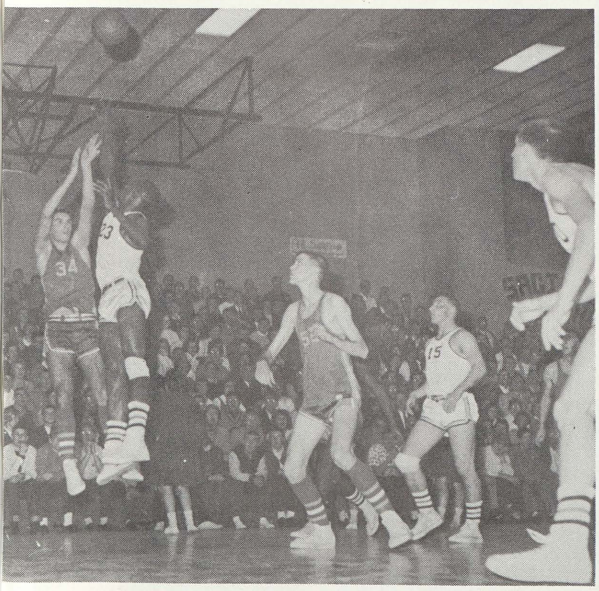

With only five returning lettermen — Jerry Calkins, Kurt Schultz, John Koski, Jerry Wright, and Tom Hill—the 1961 Arthur Hill basketball squad was expected to suffer from a lack of experience. Sophomores Craig Dill and Kieth Kundinger gained skill and consistently showed potential in the practice sessions, but still hopes were low. Coach Charles Fowler predicted that the team would take at least eight games to form itself . . . When Hillite cagers opened the season, however, they shocked the Valley with strong victories over highly-touted Ann Arbor, Bay City Handy, and Pontiac.

By having the underclassmen taking charge next year, there are now visions of another title-contending club at Arthur Hill. In all respects the season was successful and the outlook bright for the Hillite hoopsters.

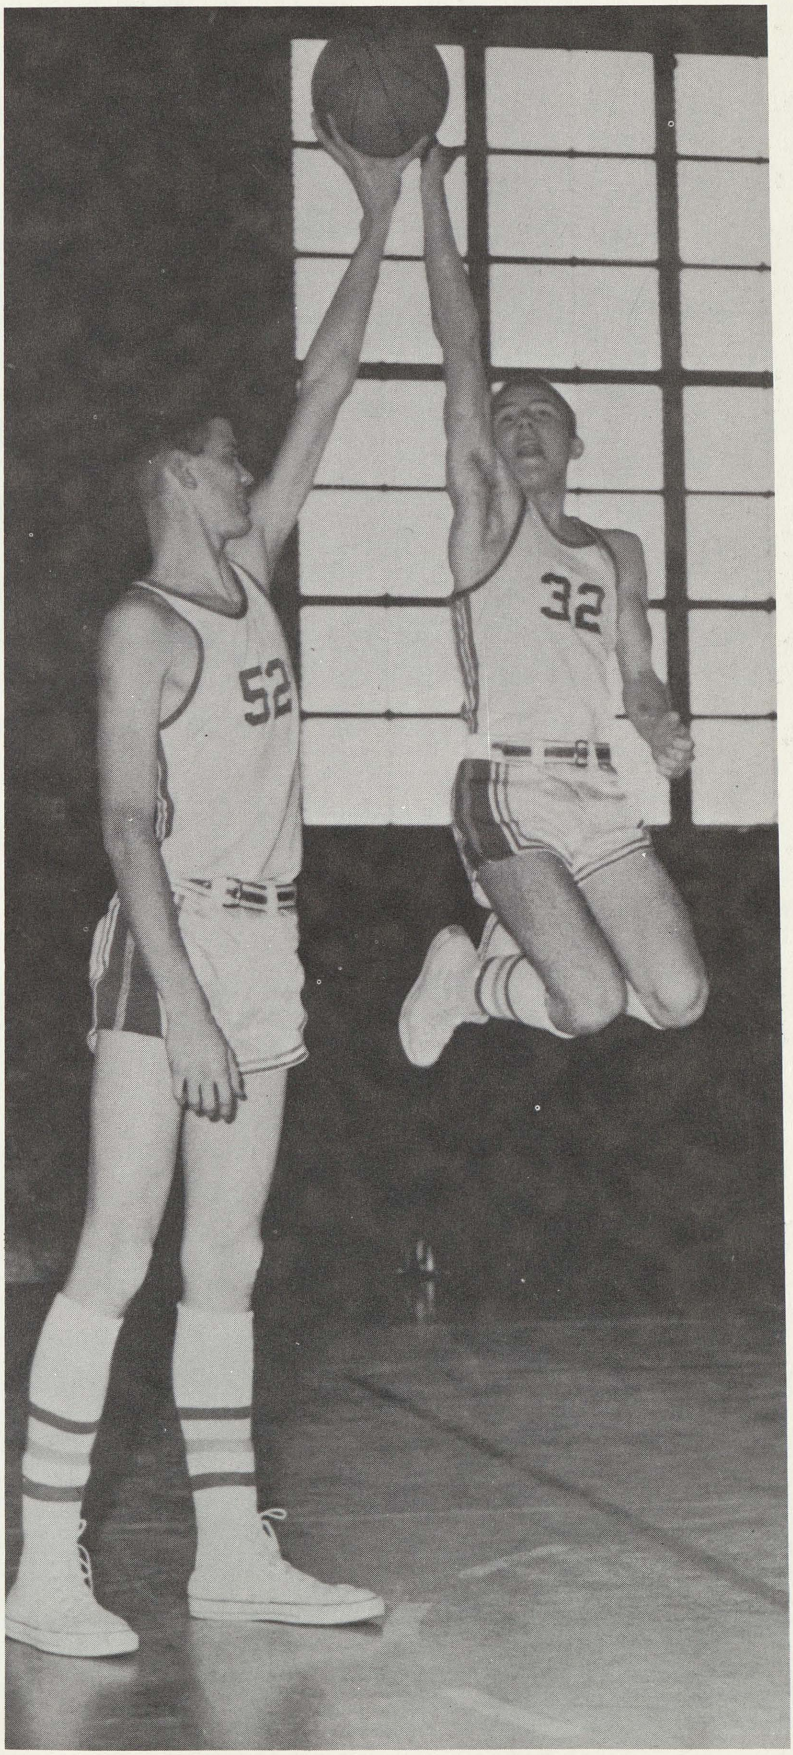

Senior forward Jerry Calkins set an all-school scoring record in his sophomore year.

Kurt Schultz and Craig Dill tangle for possession of the ball with Saginaw High's Ernie Thompson.

Sophomores Craig Dill and Keith Kundinger demonstrate that both ability and height are important in basketball.

Cross Country team members climaxed a successful 1960 campaign by finishing fourth in the Saginaw Valley League Cross Country Championship and eighth in the regional meet.

During the regular season competition Coach Edward Petzko's charges lost only one meet. That one defeat was at the hands of the valley cross country champions, Flint Southwestern. After this fine record 14 boys received letters.

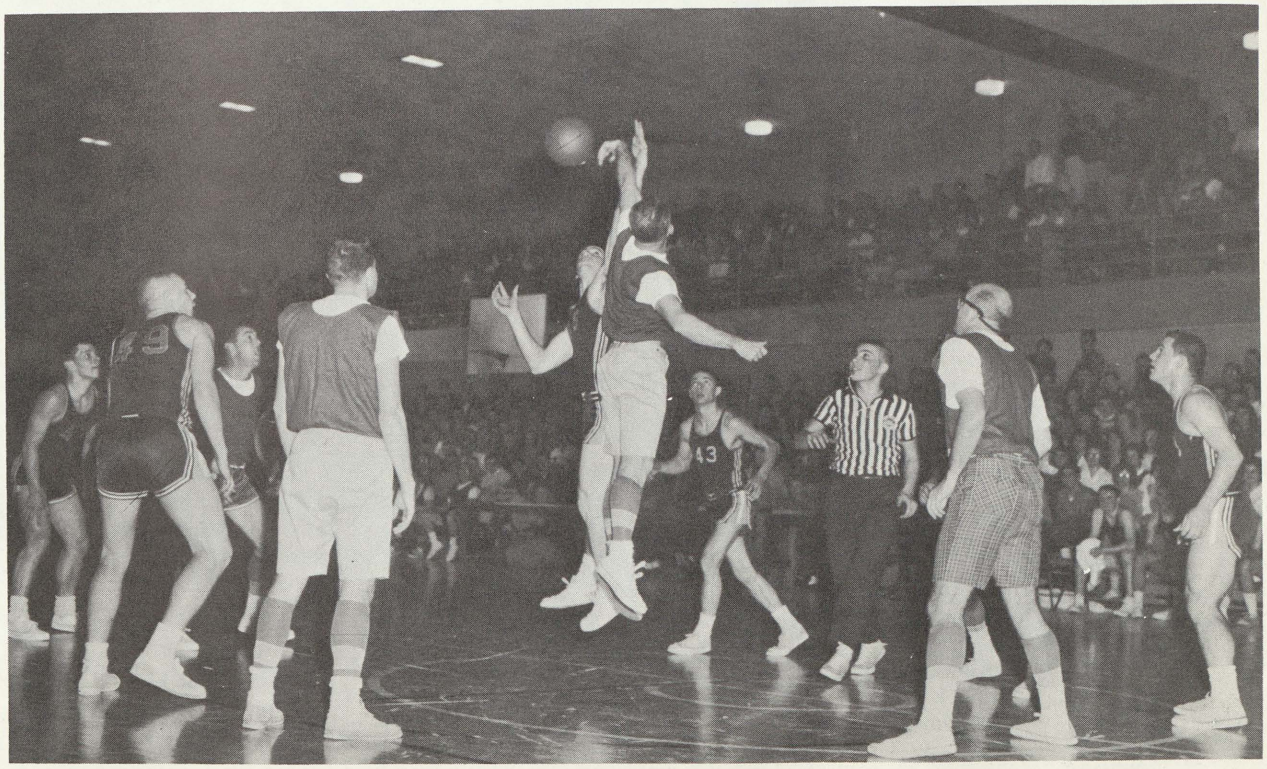

Each year at Arthur Hill there is an intramural basketball tournament. Advisories from both the North and South halves of the school compete in a series of elimination contests. The final game pits the champions of both halves of the school against each other before the entire student body. This year, Miss Beverly Yates' North half advisory swept to their second intramural crown by edging Mrs. Joy Mann's players, 30-26.

Yanks Squeak Past Rebels.

The Arthur Hill Hi-Y team was embarrassingly edged by the faculty all-stars, 30-27. This, the only paid assembly of the year, is staged annually on the day before exams.

The Hi-Y versus faculty game begins.

"Going 50, 100, 150, sold for 200;" this is the familiar call as all new members of Latin Club are auctioned off as slaves to old members. These points are accumulated by maintaining good marks, by bringing refreshments to the meetings, by working on committees, and by attending meetings.

Only students presently enrolled in a Latin class and maintaining an A or B average are considered eligible for membership. The purpose of the club is to strengthen an understanding in Latin and to give the students the chance to enjoy and investigate the Roman ways and customs.

COURT STREET AT MICHIGAN AVENUE

Larry Robinson admires the tie Bill Rohn has picked out while they shop at Ippels.

"There's a girl I'd like to know"

"She has so much poise and confidence—I'll bet she works for the telephone company. Those girls are so attractive and have such friendly, pleasant manners."

They're talking about Lucy, who started working for Michigan Bell right out of high school. She was trained by friendly, understanding supervisors and today she's proud of her work; enjoys a fine salary, regular wage increases, and many new friends.

Lucy was delighted from the very first by the clean, pleasant surroundings, by the regularly scheduled mid-morning and midafternoon "breaks" for relaxing in comfortable lounge rooms, and by the opportunities for advancement.

Isn't that kind of job worth going after? Then why not get in touch with us—perhaps there's a telephone job for you. We'll be happy to talk with you about the interesting work at Michigan Bell.
